Sudden Death .- A colored woman named Walker, living alone on Vineger Hill, was found last night by some of her neighbors lying upon the floor of an upstairs room in her house to a dring condition, with a piece of slum in her mouth. It appears that the woman had left her room for the purpose of getting some salt with which to stop a hemorrhage from the largs which had suddenly come upon her, and returning, the exertion being too much for her, had falen prostrate upon the floor, where she died in a few mionten after being discovered. Blood could be traced from the kitchen of the house to the dring woman's room. The weman came to this city from Leesbarg.

The Fare Bridge.—The commissioners of the District of Columbia have, in compliance with the parties interested, transmitted to the Secretary of War for his consideration two mem-orials, one from the citizens of Georgetown and the other from citizens of Alexandria and Fair-fax county, Va., asking that the bridge provided for in the act of Congress, approved the 231 ultime, be located at a point on the Potemac river, above Georgetown, known as the Three Sisters. These memorials are very numerously signed showing a decided preference for the construction of a new bridge, rather than the purchase of the present aqueduct, and it is thought that the present appropriation made will be amply sufficient for it.

DEATHS - Mr. Elwerl Warren, a well known phasterer of this city, died at the residecend histather this marning from Consumption.
